Attorney Jeffery Leving Keynotes National Families and Fathers 17th Annual Conference

Chicago, IL, February 10 – On Thursday, February 18, Chicago Fathers Rights Attorney Jeffery M. Leving will be a keynote speaker at the National Families and Fathers 17th Annual Conference in Los Angeles, California. Mr. Leving’s topic, Co-parenting and Child Support Does Not Equal High Conflict, will focus on practical strategies for reducing conflict and promoting positive co-parenting. Mr. Leving will present along with Vicki Turetsky, Commissioner for the Federal Office of Child Support. Mr. Leving will also introduce his friend Congressman Danny K. Davis for his presentation to honor him for his service, commitment and leadership in promoting healthy families.

“For more than 15 years, I have supported Fathers and Families Coalition of America, championing the rights of children. Children must excel and be their best and have the support of both parents. Our future as a nation starts with building healthy communities,” said Leving who will also discuss his latest book How to Be a Good Divorced Dad.

Fathers and Families Coalition of America’s National 17th Annual Conference will take place February 16 through the 19 at the Sheraton Gateway Hotel in Los Angeles hosting a series of workshops, plenary discussions and meetings with industry experts. The lecturers will speak about specific practices and important strategies, which professionals can utilize when they work with children and adults who are trying to overcome problematic childhood experiences.

Jeffery M. Leving has been recognized by government leaders (including the last three U.S. Presidents and the Illinois House of Representatives), private industry, his peers, and non-profit agencies. His latest book, How to be a Good Divorced Dad, received praise from President Barack Obama, and was endorsed by the late Cardinal Francis George of the Archdiocese of Chicago.
